

Medicare, as much as their rhetoric, certainly give America's seniors reason for concern.

Mr. Speaker, we need reform that protects Medicare's solvency. But we cannot afford legislation that destroys Medicare in the name of saving it.

THE TRUTH HURTS

(Mr. ANDREWS asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the truth hurts and the truth is that what the Speaker asserted in 1995, that Medicare should wither on the vine is still true in his opinion in 1996.

The truth also is that this is a Congress that has reacted when people have opposed their positions in very negative and harmful ways to all of us. In 1995 they threw a national temper tantrum and shut the Government down because they could not get what they wanted. And now in 1996 when working men and women who are members of unions like the laborer's union exercise their constitutional right to protest statements like this, they try to intimidate, coerce, and shut them down with hearings like those that are happening today. Real crime is happening on the streets of America but the crime is not happening with statements like this. We ought to give people the right to say what they want. The truth, indeed, hurts.

TRIBUTE TO MUHAMMAD ALI

(Mr. WARD asked and was given permission to address the house for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to commemorate a beautiful moment that will stay with me forever. Last Friday night, my family, and I watched the opening of the Olympic games. It was a wonderful spectacle of color, music, people, and culture.

The great surprise of the evening, however, was watching probably the world's most famous American, Muhammad Ali, mark the official beginning with the ceremonial lighting of the Olympic torch. We could not be prouder to have such a great sports figure calling Louisville home.

Muhammad Ali is a role model for us all. He used his talent along with fierce determination to become the best boxer in the world, proved in 1960 as he won an Olympic Gold Medal and proven in his professional career as he remains the only man to hold the boxing heavyweight crown on three separate occasions.

As he struggles under the grip of Parkinson's disease, he remains a role model. He stood tall and proud while lighting the flame, accepting this physical burden with the dignity and grace he has exhibited for his entire career.

He truly is the greatest.

UTAH IS THE RIGHT PLACE

(Ms. GREENE of Utah asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. GREENE of Utah. Mr. Speaker, today marks the 149th anniversary of the day that Brigham Young and his advance party entered the Salt Lake valley in 1847 and declared: "This Is the Right Place." My great, great grandfather, William Clayton, was part of Young's group that made that epic journey which began in Illinois. And so it is with great appreciation and personal enthusiasm for my State, and its unique heritage, that I say: "Utah Is Still the Right Place."

Today, Utah is a place that has seen the desert blossom as a rose as its residents have come together to forge an existence out of a harsh, inhospitable environment. It is also a place of great cultural diversity, that will continue to require all to come together and meet their differences with mutual respect. It is a place that embraces a prosperous economy that continues to foster a warmhearted, hometown feeling, making it one of our most livable States. And now Utah will be the right place for the 2002 Winter Olympic Games.

For all Utahns, July 24 has come to be a day for reflection on what continues to make our State the right place. While our business requires me to be here today, my heart, and that of many across the country, is home in Utah today.

THE GOP IS CUTTING THE DEFICIT

(Mr. BARTLETT of Maryland asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. BARTLETT of Maryland. Mr. Speaker, both the White House and my colleagues on the other side of the aisle have been patting themselves on the back so hard they've been wrenching their shoulders, all to claim credit for deficit reduction which wasn't their doing. The facts are these: The deficit would be at least $56 billion higher today if we had followed the President's budget, but instead, we Republicans did the hard work of finding the savings the Democrats didn't have the guts to make.

The rest of the deficit reduction came from three places: First, cuts in defense as a result of the peace dividend which occurred because Ronald Reagan killed communism; second, sales of assets from the S&L cleanup already in place before Clinton took office; and third, the one thing that was the Democrats' doing; namely, tax hikes on gasoline, social security recipients, and small businessmen.

Republicans want to cut those Democratic taxes and create jobs as a result. More jobs would mean a stronger economy, which would mean a smaller deficit—no thanks at all to the Democrats.

PRESIDENT CLINTON FLIP-FLOPS ON WELFARE REFORM

(Mr. KNOLLENBERG asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. KNOLLENBERG. Mr. Speaker, what really is going on with the President. I know he likes to change his mind and switch his position, but this week, the President and his friends were in rare form.

We know the President has promised to reform welfare as we know it. Yet he has managed to veto reform twice behind thinly veiled excuses.

Then he supported Wisconsin's reform in a speech, but changed his mind.

Then he spoke to the Nation's Governors and said he supported welfare reform, but the next day, his handlers were changing his tune.

The very next day, Leon Panetta said the President would veto the House-passed welfare reform. And on Sunday, Vice President GORE said the very same thing.

The following day in Denver, the President changed his mind again saying he thinks he can support welfare reform.

I can not wait for tomorrow.

With the President flipping around more than a fish out of water, who knows where he will land. But remember, as my Democrat friends have said, if you do not like the President's position, just wait awhile.

With all the flips and flops, it may soon be called the Waffle House.

I yield back the balance of broken Clinton promises.

PERMISSION FOR SUNDRY COMMITTEES AND THEIR SUBCOMMITTEES TO SIT TODAY DURING THE 5-MINUTE RULE

Mr. ROGERS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the following committees and their subcommittees be permitted to sit today while the House is meeting in the Committee of the Whole under the 5-minute rule:

Committee on Agriculture; Committee on Banking and Financial Services; Committee on Commerce; Committee on Economic and Educational Opportunities; Committee on Government Reform and Oversight; Committee on International Relations; Committee on the Judiciary; Committee on Resources; Committee on Science; and Committee on Small Business.

Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that the minority has been consulted and that there is no objection to these requests.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. ROGERS). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from Kentucky?

There was no objection.
